International Conference for Healthcare and Medical Students

We are delighted to invite leading corporations to join us in support of the 12th annual International Conference for Healthcare and Medical Students (ICHAMS) through the various sponsorship options available this year.

ICHAMS is a student-run, undergraduate research conference taking place on February 9-11, 2023, which welcomes nearly 300 medical, pharmacy, physiotherapy and biomedical science students annually from Ireland and over 30 countries worldwide. The conference takes place at Ireland's largest medical school, the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland (RCSI), which ranked joint second globally for "Good Health and Wellbeing" in the Times Higher Education University Impact Rankings 2021. This year, the theme of our conference will be "Inspiring the Future of Healthcare" in honour of the growth and adaptation we have experienced in healthcare in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Partners have supported ICHAMS since its inception into becoming the leading, independent student-led medical conference in Europe. As such, we are seeking to partner with conscientious businesses that are interested in supporting medical education and research internationally. Engaging with ICHAMS has allowed partners to access a worldwide audience and promote their brand to the next generation of healthcare professionals. Developing such connections early on promotes loyalty amongst the medical community and precipitates continuity of business in the future. We are ambitious in our plans for ICHAMS 2023 and seek your support in contributing to the professional development of students across the globe.

Now more than ever, it is crucial that members of the medical community maintain and develop collaborative relationships with colleagues and peers. The shared knowledge and research, as well as the inspiration evoked during the conference, are essential in continuing to facilitate growth and improvement in the provision of care in the medical community.

We are pleased to detail the benefits that sponsors will avail of through ICHAMS 2023. Your support of this year's conference will facilitate research motivation, scientific collaboration, and will allow us to grow and reach our worldwide audience. We look forward to exploring your interests and potential support for ICHAMS 2023.

Best regards,

Avneesh Sachdev, Divyeshz Sivakumar, and Gina Rizq
